The redistricting gerrymandering is abhorrent. It is obvious that the republicans don't think they can win in a district determined by the citizens they represent. Let the citizens in the districts give recommendations for new maps, or let us vote on the new map. They won't be use they know this is a last ditch effort to make sure that the white rich people always control the politics in Texas. Texas education is a nightmare due to poor funding, the grid needs to be fixed, the prison system needs reform, and the Texas governor is obsessed with posting on Facebook about the border. Gerrymandering needs to stop. The new maps are painfully bad. I do not want any of my representatives to support the new maps, but none of them care what I have to say.
