Message:

I live in US House District 17 in North Austin. I recently looked up my representative on a map of my district and discovered that it has been gerrymandered. It is so blatantly obvious to me that the map has been manipulated to dilute my liberal area with more rural and conservative towns in Texas. I am a Texan, and proud to be, but I am ashamed that this is what someone believes is a fair map that represents my area. I haven't even heard of some of the areas that are associated with my district and they are far geographically from me.

I am taking the time to write this in hopes that this will be corrected. To me, the map should be divided more fairly and should not be manipulated to one side or another. I hope my representatives can reflect me more accurately and this can only happen if our districts are fairly portioned. Please rise above politics and party to correct this very obvious and unfortunate practice.

I assume this is aimed at my Senate Redistricting Committee, but if for some reason it needs to be redirected, please do so.
