Being in gerrymandered district 17 is really discouraging. We have spent years of trying to express our views to the Republican incumbents and get no response or in person opportunities to express opinions. The whole set-up is an affront to our democracy.

Please set up independent commissions to set district boundaries and give the people a chance to have their votes count. This would encourage citizen participation in the whole process of governing, which is something you should be encouraging.

Respectfully,

Robert Bauhs
