Message:

Gerrymandering is a stab directly into the heart of true democracy. There is no true representation when the people's voices are muffled and silenced through selective, intentionally designed boundaries. If we are to have democracy, it will only arise through people playing fair. Otherwise, it is a failure.

Intentionally doing everything you can to silence the voices of the people of Austin is not democracy. It is not the State of Texas' decision who gets represented, how they are represented and why they are or are not represented.

End the gerrymandering now! Redistrict Austin in a way which represents our voices, our values and people.
