Message:

I currently reside in Harris County Precinct 0323. My precinct is in the current boundaries of Texas Congressional District 18. Currently, I have no representation in Washington, DC.

This redistricting project is an attempt to rig the system. The very act of trying to do this is an admission that Republicans cannot prevail if elections are fair. When you have cheat to win you're a loser.

Texas is a majority minority state. However, our representation in Washington does not reflect this. And Governor Abbott wants to make it even more unrepresentative.

I understand my fellow white Texans are concerned about losing power. They are afraid that Black, brown, and Latino/Hispanic voters want to turn the tables and do to us what we've done to them. This fear is fogging the minds of Governor Abbott and other Texas Republicans.

Instead of cowering in back rooms, be brave. Brave enough to stop lying to yourselves and your constituents. Brave enough to stop cheating.

Racism is a choice. Jesus wouldn't cheat. Neither should you.
