Message:

I firmly oppose any redistricting efforts in Texas that aim to silence or diminish the voices of ANY voters including Democratic voters. Gerrymandering, in any form, undermines the democratic process. It manipulates district boundaries to favor one party over another, often diluting the power of communities (particularly communities of color, young voters, and working class Texans) who deserve equal representation. Every Vote should carry the same weight, and every citizen should have equal opportunity to elect leaders who reflect their values and needs. When districts are redrawn with partisan motives, it erodes public trust in our institutions, discourages civic engagement, and weakens the very foundation of our democracy. Texas is a diverse and rapidly growing state, and our political representation should reflect that. Any attempt to redraw district lines in a way that disproportionately silences Texas voices is not just unjust, it is un-American. Fair districting is a right to ALL TEXANS REGARDLESS OF THEIR POLITICAL PARTIES.

Political parties always shift and they always change and the longer Texas stays "Red" the more time is running out for it to eventually change blue. The only constant in life is change and the more angry you make voters by suppressing their voting rights, the more that will turn on you.
