Message:
I'm a registered republican voter and do not agree with the manipulation of our state districts. Stop being cowards and giving into our presidents insanity requests to gain seats in the upcoming elections. Their's a reason why we have checks and balances in our government. If you can't get the votes needed in the next election then move out of the way and let the person Texas people voted for work for us till the next election and try again. Plain and simple. I don't care what party they are from, Independent, Democrat, Republican, Liberian and everything in between. No wonder people 45 and younger get want term limits on all of y'all. There no integrity from anyone. A word my grandparents and great grandparents showed but almost everyone in our government lacks.
