Message:

To do this is cowardice. You fear losing your seats and clutch your wallet and pearls instead of taking accountability for your actions. You ALL took an oath after WE THE PEOPLE elected ya'll into that comfy office to do right by the PEOPLE OF TEXAS. Instead of working together and being UNITED for the common good, you would rather be a sock puppet to the billionaires who are the true evil ruining this country. If I recall correctly, greed is a SIN. But what does religion do for us anymore? To get away with crimes and whip out the "I asked God for forgiveness" card? I have no problem with either party running our state/country if they do right by the people of this beloved country, for I am not blinded by the greed that tries to pit us against each other while they keep their bellies fed and wallets full. WAKE UP, TEXAS. WE ARE BECOMING THE LAUGHING STOCK OF THE WORLD. The America they once respected is now a capitalist country stepping on the backs of those who put them there. As a concerned Texan, I want my state to be thriving and united. Not dying divided.

I know you won't care because that's the boomer mentality. "I won't face the consequences of my actions, for I will not be here to live through it."
