Message:

Of all the shenanigans the Republican legislators have been up to, they're trying to redistrict in a way to deprive predominately black and brown people from having their votes matter. Five Republican seats to hold on to power for Donald Trump. It doesn't go unnoticed that he came to Texas first.

But Republicans have started to see the light in this state. While this is a MAGA state at the top, it's a Republican state among the populace. And they are defecting.

Instead of ensuring that little girls and families were protected from the violent floods characteristic of these beautiful, and normally placid, rivers in our state, these legislators used their time to give us the Ten Commandments in classrooms and school vouchers for wealthy families. And it still isn't the first item on their agenda. Stealing black and brown votes for Donald Trump has taken precedence.

Redistricting at this time and for this reason is wrong. It's bad politics. It's un-American. And there will be backlash. Power corrupts, and our legislators might want to look at what and why they're even entertaining this move.
