Message:

I am strongly opposed to the current redistricting efforts in Texas. These new maps do not reflect the true makeup or needs of our diverse communities. Instead, they appear to be designed to protect political power at the expense of fair representation.

Redistricting should ensure that every vote counts equally, not dilute the voices of communities of color or split up neighborhoods for partisan gain.

Gerrymandering undermines the foundations of our democracy, especially in a state as large and diverse as Texas.
