Message:

As a concerned and taxpaying citizen of Texas, I am writing to express my strong opposition to any attempts to redraw congressional districts in a way that unfairly favors one political party over another. Redistricting should serve the people, not politicians.

Gerrymandering erodes public trust in our democratic institutions, silences communities, and undermines fair representation. Every Texan deserves an equal voice in government, regardless of political affiliation. I urge you to prioritize transparency, fairness, and the integrity of our democracy in any redistricting decisions. District maps should reflect the true diversity and geography of our state not be manipulated for partisan gain.

I respectfully ask that you oppose any redistricting efforts that do not center fairness, equity, and the will of the people.
