Message:

As a society we risk losing our souls when we hide behind doing what is legal regardless of whether it is the right and moral thing to do. Redistricting based on gerrymandering hurts our communities. It elevates political gain over the wellbeing of districts designed to pool constituents with shared experiences and geographical proximity promoting mutual interests. Texas is a huge place with regions and people as diverse as our landscapes and our ideas. Most people still live and die within 100 miles of where they're born. We need representatives in our respective districts that honor our diversity and the specificity of all areas and people of Texas.
