Message:

The elected Republican officials in Texas need to ask themselves if they are truly upholding the oaths they took when they were sworn into office. Are they faithfully executing the duties of the State of Texas, or are they cowering to a President who is interfering in the state's business? Are they acting in the best interest of the citizens they represent, or are they afraid Trump will pit an adversary against them in the next election if they don't do what he wants? Are they upholding the constitution of the United States and Texas? They must know that if they continue to gerrymander as their currently proposed redistricting map illustrates, they will be violating the Voter's Rights Act. If this map is confirmed, don't think that this will pass unnoticed. There will be lawsuits and a lot of press surrounding this issue (more than there is now). All registered Texas voters will be aware of these misdeeds and it will cost you in the next election (not just with the registered Democrats, but the Independents and some of the Republicans as well). Please think about all of this as you move to generate this unfair map. And ask yourself if you are preserving, protecting and defending the Constitution and laws of the United States and of the State of Texas to the best of your ability. Because if you move to unfairly redistrict, you will have broken your oath, and Texans do not forget a broken oath.
