Message:

I have to believe the people I vote for are able to act in the best interests of Texas, and are able to withstand pressure to act in a manner that betrays their office. We have no Kings, and our elected officials should be strong enough to stand up to demands that are clearly wrong. History will not favor toadies favorably, and people that capitulate now will soon find themselves in the grip of a man who will squeeze harder and harder until they are nothing but a limp rope used to subdue whomever the rope holder chooses. Once you are that rope, you are helpless to save your family and friends, children and descendants from the world you helped create. If you do not stand against tyranny, you will be on the wrong side of history and your good works will be worthless.
