Message:

As a Houston resident, I strongly oppose the proposed mid-decade redistricting. Our maps were drawn after the last census, and changing them now—without clear population-based justification—undermines public trust. This process risks weakening representation for our diverse communities, especially in historically Black and Hispanic neighborhoods in Houston’s 18th, 9th, and 29th districts.

Every voter deserves fair and equal representation. Redistricting should not be used for partisan gain or to silence communities of color. I urge the Senate to prioritize transparency by releasing proposed maps before hearings and ensuring meaningful public input.

Please reject this effort and maintain our current districts until the next scheduled redistricting cycle.
