Message:

Texas is a great state with a mix of citizens with different life experiences and cultures and strong opinions. In a democracy we each get one vote, communities of interest are recognized and represented and the majority view wins. It's fair.

What this redistricting effort does is strategically divest, especially minority voices, from their right to an equal vote. Voting legislation in our country refer to ensuring that each community of interest is represented. The extreme tilt to nearly guaranteed GOP wins corrodes the democratic compact of fair representation. It takes away the right to have minority viewpoints included.

We should not be able to exclude other cultures and communities from representation. Vote NO to this extreme gerrymandering attempt
