Message:

Moving back to Texas felt like coming home when my husband retired from the Army. I cherished the slogan: "Texas it's a whole other country." Since when did we resort to rigging the system in a way that didn't take care of other Texans?

Instead of focusing on problems that need to be addressed in our state, our legislature is asserting its power to cheat the public and deprive fellow Texans of their ability to fairly elect representatives that best represent their interests. And let's be clear, we all know I am talking about black and brown citizens.

These despicable tactics only prove how unpopular the President's policies have become. If it were not the case, why would lawmakers use gerrymandering to guarantee one outcome in the 2026 midterms.

This not a question. It's cheating; it's racist; it's wrong.
