Message:

I do not support the redistricting of our state. I was taught in seventh grade Texas History that gerrymandering was wrong, as it is a way to subvert the people's will and could lead us further away from democracy. I implore you to ask yourself if this redistricting feels honest and right or malicious. Will this victory be worth the cost? Because there will be a price to be paid. It may not be immediate, but there will be consequences. Other (blue) states may choose to follow your example and redistrict themselves, making this effort meaningless or even giving blue members more House seats than they currently hold. The new Texas seats created could turn blue. The seats currently held by the Republican Party may flip in 2026 because of this redistricting effort. I implore you to listen to the concerns of the people who oppose this. Power should not go unchecked. We need a Congress that will stand up to Executive overreach. We need a judiciary who will uphold the true intent of the law. The practice of putting party over people has gone too far, and the federal government has become far too powerful. Do not vote to give more power to an executive that already has too much.
