Message:

I strongly oppose any redistricting efforts in Texas that aim to silence and diminish the voices of Democratic voters. The manipulation of district boundaries to favor one party of another weakens the power of our communities - especially those of color and working-class Texans - and undermines the democratic process that we hold so dear. Every citizen should have an equal and equitable opportunity to elect leaders who reflect their needs and values. Such gerrymandering efforts erode our public trust in our institutions, discourages civic engagement, and jeopardizes the stability of our democratic foundation. The diversity of our great state should be reflected in our political representation. This attempt to redraw district lines is unjust and, quite frankly, un-American. Our redistricting process must be inclusive, transparent, and truly representative to all people, not just those in positions of power and privilege.
