Thank you for this opportunity to submit a comment on this topic. I live in Plano and my address falls within district 3. This district has always been conservative. However, Collin County voters elected Trump by 8 percentage points in 2024. Hunt County voted republican by a margin of 3 to 1. What this tells me is that these counties have different needs and priorities. Also, please look at the shape of this district. It is within a weird "Finger" that doesn't make sense geographically or politically.

My neighbors and I have a right to representation that meets our needs. I'll also be honest that I have voted as a democrat in the last three presidential election cycles. I lie awake at night worrying about the state of this country and what will happen in the next decade or so. I see our cherished freedoms eroding day by day. Universities and news outlets are being censored. Even birthright citizenship is under review. We the People have a right to vote this president out. I hope that if/when you re-draw these maps, you will do so in a way that will not silence political opposition. The two parties need each other and democratic values have merit, too.

Thank you for your consideration.
