Message:

My name is Emilie Christy, and I've lived in and Travis County since 2001. I'm was privileged to be able to spend several long afternoon here: to participate in the process of government. Many of my fellow Texans are not able to skip work, find childcare and transportation, to gamble on the Possibility...that you, Our Elected Officials, might listen to our voices and take us into account.

I would like to remind the legislature that - your actions and inactions, the laws you pass, for example, these radically racist boundary lines that are being used to further silence our underserved communities -- They affect every facet of life for Texans.

I would also like to remind our Representatives that that word isn't just a title. It's a job description. You are responsible for "Representing the People of Texas". This is our state govenment, one that shouldn't be run like a corporation where people are exploited for profit. We demand that our government use the resoures of the state for all those who call Texas home. After the recent flooding in the hill country, as private citizens led the way through devastation with mutual aid, disaster relief, and - Grieving, we need our lawmakers to prioritize people and communities. Not political power plays that divide us.

Thank you for your time.
