Opposing Mid-Decade Congressional Redistricting

I'm writing to oppose the proposed congressional redistricting maps discussed at the July 24 hearing. These plans appear to be politically motivated and risk reducing fair representation—especially for minority communities.

The arrest of Isaiah Martin during his testimony only adds to concerns about transparency and public trust in this process. Redistricting mid-decade, without clear demographic need, sets a dangerous precedent and undermines voter confidence.

I urge the Senate to halt these efforts and commit to a fair, transparent process that prioritizes communities—not politics.

Thank you.
