Message:

Gerrymandering is cheating — plain and simple. It's the only way some politicians can hold onto power, because they refuse to win fairly by listening to the people they represent. And I don't want to hear your "whataboutism"... two wrongs don't make a right.

By manipulating district maps, they silence communities, ignore voters, and protect their own political careers instead of serving Texans. This is not democracy — it's an abuse of power.

We demand:

An immediate end to partisan map manipulation.

An independent, citizen-led redistricting commission.

Public hearings and transparency before any maps are approved.

Fair maps mean fair elections. Anything less is just rigging the game. Texans deserve honest representation, not power won through cheating.

Every day that gerrymandering continues, more Texans lose faith in our electoral process. If you truly serve the people of Texas, you will stand for fair maps, fair elections, and honest representation — and put an end to winning through cheating.

Sincerely,
Gilbert Velasquez
