Message:

This “redistricting” is nothing more than gerrymandering to appease President Trump. My daughter who lives in Dallas just north of downtown Dallas. She is now “redistricted” into a district that begins in North East Tarrant county. That means her Dallas County district has been redrawn to span from Dallas where she lives - again off Royal north of downtown Dallas, across the city of Irving to Northeast Tarrant County. How does that make sense? Other than Trump’s demand that Texas deliver 5 more seats what is the urgency to do this mid way between 2 censuses. There is no updated data to indicate the need to redistricting.

In addition to no new data the citizens of Texas have loudly spoken up in opposition to the redistricting plan. Sadly the Texas legislatures response to it’s citizens was to limit time and attention to our concerns about this plan.

So bottom line is are you Texans or lackey’s to Trump? If your politics are as popular as you all believe the. Run on your record.
