Why am I still submitting comments on the ridiculous notion of redistricting mid-decade in Texas? Because it is important! Why do you want to take away the inner city voices/votes of minority communities? That is EXACTLY what this map does. Personally, my district would change from MAGA Congressman, Keith Self of CD 3 to a likely MAGA Congressperson in CD 4. On the map, an arm reaches down into the heart of blue Collin County & Plano, goes up to the Oklahoma border and is joined by 5 other counties (Red, MAGA voting) almost all the way to Texarkana. How would that represent my interests? I'm in the middle of Plano and you want to pair me with folks living along the Oklahoma border? Are you crazy?? Abbott has now wasted this whole Special Session on pleasing a wannabe dictator who asked for 5 extra districts. He is not "entitled" to them just because he won. Why isn't he happy that he won with the results he got out of Texas in 2024? You know why? Because his policies suck! Tariffs are a mistake. Rounding up immigrants by ICE is a mistake. Not allowing due process to the brown people they round up is a mistake. Locking them up either out of country or building new Concentration Camps in Texas is a mistake! Not even attempting to lower the price of groceries is a huge mistake. His past relationship with Epstein is not a mistake, it's who he is - a pedophile. And, by the way, us taxpayers pay for these wasted Special Sessions. Another had better not be called following this fiasco!

But you GOP Republicans continue to put your face up his backside and do his bidding... just because you are in charge and think you can. One day, and I hope it's soon, Texans will wake up to the fact that Republicans cannot govern - that your policies hurt the working class who just want to have their families, buy a decent home, afford healthcare, and live a life of normalcy here in Texas.

I have lived here most of my life. I consider myself a Texan. I have sons and a grand daughter living here. I have no intention of moving, but if you continue with your idiotic efforts to disenfranchise the middle class while you give the rich everything they want while they hoard their wealth and give nothing back to society, I will consider moving to a blue state like Minnesota or Illinois where at least my voice will be heard.

That's the thing about these comments... are you going to listen to the public? Or are you going to ignore our legitimate arguments for dropping this foolhardy quest to please a wannabe fuhrer? Remember, one day , he won't be around and your party could be on the other side of this issue. What will YOUR legacy be? One of groveling while the country burns? Save Democracy. Redistrict when the census changes in 2030, not before.
