Message:

For a state that has been so proud of its individuality and independence for its entire history, and for a party that claims it has fought for small government, the flagrant, unrepentant public submission to a single, New York-raised man is not just shameful, it is wicked. All while wrapping in your corruption with HUNDREDS of dead kids. And yet your constituents, colleagues, and families have come to expect nothing less.

Texans need you. Hill Country needs you. Our country needs you. Our democracy needs you to do your job with integrity and grow a backbone before you yourself are facing the political persecution the people of this state and this country already know too well. Remember that. Then try to vote with your soul.
