Message:

I do not support redistricting at this time. We should continue to follow the precedent of redrawing voting maps every 10 years, after the census has been received and tallied.

We can all see by doing it at this time (as well as by how the maps have been gerrymandered) this is nothing more than an effort for Republicans to gain more seats and control before the midterms.

Elected officials in State Houses should answer to their constituents, not to the President. If you have a fear of losing in 2026 then work to come up with ideas to help your constituents rather than cheating in order to stay in power.
