Message:

As a former Texan, and an American, I fiercely believe that our elected representatives should represent and mirror the residents of each state. One political, racial, gender, religious group should not have more representation than the make up of the state.

The Republicans trying to manipulate the system say that redrawing districts is not against the law, but they must know that it is WRONG and undemocratic!

Our honorable forebearers did not anticipate that we would be so void of honesty and virtue that we would blatantly deny misrepresentation to our neighbors in this cheap and dishonest manner.

I am embarrassed for Texas. Is this what you teach your children?
