Message:

As a long time resident of Texas, Texas public school teacher, and parent, I have thoughts about this redistricting attempt.

All Texans deserve to have their voices heard. And all Texans deserve to have their vote count. If your party can't win without gerrymandering, then perhaps it's time to listen to what your constituents really want instead of cheating your way to power. What happened to congress being a public service position? If you care about Texans, you'll make sure that voting districts are fair to both political parties.

I'm asking for fair voting districts that allow the people of Texas to elect the candidates we choose to represent us.
