Message:

We have had enough, the people have had enough. Gerrymandering this state is the last thing that we need. While I agree that change is to be had, this change is unconstitutional. To redistrict a state simply because you know republicans are losing is quite frankly cheating. The people will vote for what is right for them, not for your own power plays. Stop trying to play this state like a fiddle for your own gain and keep the Districts the way that they are. And even if you do not heed my comment or heed my warning, to do this invites your own ruin for this is corrupt. It seems the statement of History repeats itself may come to pass once more.
