Message:

I strongly oppose any redistricting efforts in Texas designed to suppress or weaken the voices of Democratic voters.

Partisan gerrymandering no matter who carries it out threatens the integrity of our democracy. When district boundaries are drawn to favor one political party, it diminishes the voice of entire communities especially communities of color, young people, and working-class Texans who deserve to be heard and fairly represented.

Every vote should matter equally. When redistricting is driven by political motives instead of fairness, it undermines public confidence, discourages participation, and chips away at the foundation of representative government.

Texas is a dynamic, diverse, and fast-growing state. Our political map should reflect that not distort it. Manipulating district lines to silence Democratic voters is not only wrong it goes against the very values our democracy is built on.

We need a redistricting process that is fair, inclusive, and transparent one that puts the needs of Texans before the interests of politicians. Representation is not a reward for the powerful it's a right that belongs to all of us.
