Redistricting due to being scared of your seat switching to democrats is a sore loser choice... Republicans are the party that values "facts over feelings" but when it's comes to facing those facts y'all's feelings will do anything to make them come to fruition. Lets be real, the main reason here is because y'all desperately crave the approval from the criminal in charge, so yall took a play out of his playbook and came up with this idea to cheat the system. If the last redistricting was in 2003, and in y'all's opinion, the best it could get, what's the change now. Abbot and Cruz both know what's on the horizon for them and know Texans are tired of their selfish politics. Y'all make Texas look like it's full of hateful and ignorant people, ignoring the true meaning of what it means to be a Texan, which is to stand up for what you think is right. Abbott and Cruz have shown time and time again that they are spineless and will sell our great state away if it means they can grasp on the relevancy and keep their positions for longer than they deserve. Them not giving Texans a chance to pick who they feel would best represent them, feels like a trail run for what's to come next with our presidency as well. Stop walking all over Texans rights and do the right thing. We know the freedom of choice is an illusion in America, but if y'all do this..it will just make that fact more obvious.
