Message:

Redistricting in Texas has become a tool for politicians to protect their power instead of fairly representing the people. Gerrymandering lets political parties draw district lines to silence communities, dilute minority voices, and rig elections in their favor.

This isn't about left or right it's about democracy. Every Texan deserves fair representation, and that starts with fair maps. When politicians choose their voters instead of voters choosing their leaders, we all lose.

Texas is growing, changing, and becoming more diverse. Our districts should reflect that not twist it for political gain. Let's demand transparency, accountability, and independent redistricting that puts people first.
