Message:

I do not support the redistricting efforts currently taking place in Texas. Gerrymandering undermines the foundation of a fair and representative democracy by manipulating district boundaries for political gain rather than reflecting the true will of the people. Every community deserves equal and accurate representation, not maps drawn to dilute the voices of certain voters based on race or political affiliation. Texans deserve better — fair districts, transparent processes, and an electoral system that works for all, not just for those in power.
