Message:

As a Texas citizen, I want to express my opposition to redistricting in the state of Texas. Doing this will undermine voter representation and the democratic process in our state. Redistricting should reflect shifts in population, not be used to manipulate electoral outcomes and entrench the power of one political party over another. This seems to be what the current US administration and the leadership in Austin want to do, and it is wrong. It does not and will not fairly represent the people of our state. A redistricting process that prioritizes fair representation for all Texans should be used, allowing voters to meaningfully participate in their democracy and elect representatives accountable to their needs. Sadly, Texas has a history of discriminatory redistricting practices. It's time for this to stop.
