To quote Sugourney Weaver's character in the movie Avatar "they're pissing on us and they don't even have the decency to call it rain".

Meaning, Texas politicians specifically the Republicans have such a low opinion of it's citizens, that they blatantly are trying to cheat & not even being discreet about it.

Trying to do a special rearranging of the districts even though we already had it done in 2021 after the census is a blatant attempt to manipulate the outcome for the 2026 elections. Too eliminate certain voices of specific communities.

If Republicans are so worried about losing the House & Senate from the federal to state level due to the horrendous low approval numbers.

I would suggest that y'all look at the policies you are all pushing through. The idiolegy y'all are championing.

Most important really look at the leadership you all are bending the knee too. Texans don't bow down out of fear to a tyrant.

Try too and change what you guys are doing instead of manipulating and rigging the game in your favor.

Winners don't cheat they lead.
