Message:

I've lived in Texas since 1990 and strongly disagree with those who want to gerrymander our already gerrymandered state in order to fulfill Trump's will. Republicans are not standing up for their constituents or the citizens of Texas as a whole. Rather than focusing on health care and safety for all, hunger issues, and better education, more Republicans have insured that most of us will not be better off than we were under bipartisan and fact-based administrations. Republicans cowering now will be shamed in the future at how they didn't work for those they serve.
