Message:

Hello representative of Texas, I hope this finds you well. I would like to bring to your attention that you are representing all citizens of Texas and not just republicans. I know it's hard with all that is happening with the oval office and republicans vs Democrats being a big topic. I know that it is impossible to please everyone but it feels like you are leaving a big chunk of your people out of your thoughts. It saddens me the greed and chaos that is slowing consuming our great state. Please hear me when I say I'm scared of what is to come if something doesn't change. I also would like to state I file as a democrat but that doesn't mean I'm looking for a fight with every republican, I can see different perspectives and understanding common ground. As of recently it feels like the same human decency isn't being applied to the everyday people you represent. So I beg and plead for you to look at the individual and the collective because both are important.

To get to a specific topic-

The redistricting.

The republicans were the ones that previously did the redistricting? It feels like y'all are just trying to change the game as soon as we the people start learning the rules. I know y'all have y'all's agenda and things y'all want to do but at what cost?

When will enough be enough? I hope one day we as a world are less divided but it starts with you.

- I leave you with this
