Message:

You have, no doubt, seen the statistics that show Democrats already do not have the amount of seats that accurately represent them based on voting statistics from the last election. But this is so much more. I believe in the parties trying to find ways to work together for the common good. This gerrymandering further divides us. I have lost faith in my elected officials. I don't trust you to listen to your constituents because this move proves the only thing that matters is winning and power. You are supposed to represent all, not just your party and the wishes of the president. Trying to reduce or remove the representation from over 40 percent of the state is just wrong. Prove you have integrity and represent the whole state. Stop all this redistricting and use the time left to fix disaster relief protocols. EVERYONE wants that, not just one party or the other. If you continue this redistricting, other states will feel they have to in order to create "fair play" and what will we have become as a nation. It reminds me of the gang retaliation in the 90s. Nobody wins. Everyone loses. It all becomes a game and the people who suffer are the innocent bystanders caught in the crossfire.
