Message:
I have lived in Texas for over a decade, and the Houston metro for over 5 years. I very strongly oppose any redistricting in and around my city, as well as anywhere in the great state of Texas that may favor the current legislators.

Every Texan, regardless of where they live, deserves to have their voice heard. It is the one job of our representatives to serve us. It is our right as citizens of this republic to elect officials who reflect our ideals, share our morals, and represent our ideologies. If these representatives cannot align themselves with the needs and desires of the public which they serve, then those elected officials need to remove themselves from the occupation of public service, and NOT redraw district lines making it so the public cannot simply vote them out.

We the people give them the power, not the other way around. Representatives should spend their time improving our state's infrastructure - including the power grid, emergency response, and public services such as mental health training for law enforcement. Representatives should not spend their time catering to their own religious ideals and padding their pockets with money from the wealthy.
