Message:

Redistricting is a legislative duty and obligation you took on when elected to office and can't be postponed just because you are busy. Public businesses and citizens like myself have to organize busy lives and I expect the same from my government. Yes, you are dealing with a flood disaster, but the rest of governmental demands continue and will not go away with time, only get worse.

I do not want North Shore communities split into little identity politics enclaves to suit some agenda. I expect a fair shake for all even though that might be asking too much.

I also have to live within my means and I expect my government to remember where the money, that is tossed around like confetti at times it seems, comes from. This taxpayer is not a bottomless bag of money.
