Message:

I am writing to express my fervent opposition to the proposed redistricting plans in Texas, which represent a clear overreach and an affront to fair representation. These maps do not reflect the will of the people and are a blatant power grab designed to entrench partisan control at the expense of communities whose voices deserve to be heard.

This redistricting process fails the test of good faith. Rather than reflecting demographic realities and preserving the integrity of neighborhoods and communities of interest, the proposed changes dilute the voting power of historically underrepresented groups and undermine public trust in our democratic institutions.

All Texans deserve fair maps. I urge you to reject any plan that disenfranchises voters and instead focus on prioritizing transparency, accountability, and genuine representation in this process.

Shame on you for taking this up instead of focusing on the real issues concerning your constituents.
