Message:

This redistricting is a blatant attempt to gerrymander. The fact that it may set off a gerrymandering battle between red vs blue states is a path no American citizen would want the country to take, we want our voices to matter, not be predetermined in a political game. Pointing fingers at blue states and saying "but they do it too!" does not absolve anyone, it just further highlights the corruption that is taking place. Republicans have the majority control on America right now, so they should be focusing on outlawing gerrymandering instead of encouraging it.

I am proud to be a Texan, but this is humiliating for us.
