Message:

I am writing to oppose mid-decade redistricting that Texas doesn't need. Our districts were redrawn less than 5 years ago and this session should be focusing on flood relief rather than partisan maps redrawn at the request of the current President. The maps were not recreated at the behest of Texas and our lawmakers are being asked to comment on redistricting without even seeing proposed maps. The proposed changes split communities that share little in common into districts that very likely violate the Voting Rights Act and leave many without representation. Have faith in our current maps, provide for our neighbors devastated by flooding and show those who would attempt to tell our state what to do that you "Don't mess with Texas."
