Message:

I don't agree with the push to redistrict. Please consider mine and others comments on this matter. Doing so would silence many voices of concerned Texans that are worried for our state and want to take care of it. There are a lot of things going on here such as new laws taking place that many do not agree with and did not want. Let our voices be heard at least on this issue. Abbott did not want to redistrict in the first place, but because of our president, was persuaded. Let Texas take care of Texas, until something that needs to be brought up to the president is necessary. This is not one of those situations. We shouldn't talk about redistricting when our state is one of the highest gerrymandered states in the country. Republican voices have already been heard and consistently take the democratic party in Texas. What reason do we need to redistrict even more for the Republicans. Money? Power? Please take care of Texas in a fair way that no matter party, we all can agree that we are Texans wanting to take care of Texans. Please consider not redistricting. Thank you.
