To Governor Abbott, Ken Faxon and Other Republicans in The Texas Senate:

I believe the Democrats, by leaving the state, are standing up for voters in Texas which is something you have never done that I know of. The gerrymandering, although certainly legal every 10 years, is just a way for Trumup to get the votes he needs to make sure that NO DEMOCRAT will win in Teaxa in any mid term races if he can do anything about it. He knows if he loses the supporters in the house and/or senate in Washington DC that he is going to possibly get impeached this time and there just might be enough votes to get it done. This is trying to use the "system" to cheat and "steal" (yes, STEAL - which Republicans are still mad about when Trump said was a "steal" from him in the 2020 election with no proof of that. We all know that isn't the truth, whether you want to admit it or not and just look at the violence which occurred at the US Capitol due to that lie.

This is America, it is a democracy which your leader Trump is trying to usurp. This is NOT good for America or it's voters. We are supposed to have FAIR elections, not an election where redrawing maps in favor of a party, especially in a year when that is not supposed to be accomplished. This is only being done at the behest of (and probable threats from) the President of the United States.

Making threats against anyone who is trying to make sure FAIR voting is taking place is not the way for anything to get done. It sounds like something school aged children would do in order to get their way. I would think even you, as Republicanw, would want this type of fairness if things were going the other way and the majority of the Texas Senate were Democrats who were trying to shove something like this down your throats. There have been so many laws passed by you to make voting rights MUCH more difficult in this state and how you want to just add one more to those.

I salute the Democrats (as I would support the Republicans if this was the other way around) in what they are trying to do for the citizens of Texas for the Democracy in the United Sates which many of us love.

Thank you,
Stephanie Spencer
