Message:

The proposed redistricting plan in Texas is a blatant and dangerous attempt to suppress the voices of Texans particularly communities of color whose growing influence threatens entrenched power. Gerrymandering isn't governance; it's manipulation. It violates the foundational promise of democracy: that every vote counts equally.

Texans deserve fair maps that reflect the will of the people, not maps that silence them. I urge you as an elected official to uphold your oath to serve all constituents. To ignore the voice of the people is not just undemocratic, it's unconstitutional.
