To whom it may concern,

The State of Texas does not need redistricting, however, it is arguable that Texas needs representation. We pay our taxes into this state in confidence that we will have our morals and values respected and represented.
Please if you need to pick up more GOP or republican seats; how about encourage viable and hardworking candidates for the people who actually want to work for THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS.
If you are fearful of losing power then maybe I suggest, listening to your constituents instead of cheating yourself into a winning role. It is unfair for the people's will to go unheard all due to someone's selfish greed and ignorance.
Texas is a wonderful state, don't tarnish its legacy with illegal moves and gerrymandering. It is difficult enough. Stop with the gerrymandering and run a winning campaign instead of accept the will of the people.

Thank you.
