Message:

I wish that every single Democratic person that left Texas would be arrested and go to jail for insurrection. Who do they think that they're representing, all they have is their own interest at heart they are playing games trying to grandstand. They all need to be rounded up arrested and put into cages for public display. I am not even being sarcastic I believe that if people are held more accountable less crazy stupid things would be happening right now. Look around you don't see a whole lot of conservative people jumping blanks. You don't see a whole lot of conservative Republican people forming large groups in ransacking stores. Look around you don't see a whole lot of Republican conservative people burning down towns and streets and cars. Stop trying to justify bad actions.
