Senators,

I am writing to express my opposition to the anti-democratic initiatives of the governor and many members of the Texas legislature, including the Senate, to gerrymander Texas even more than it has been gerrymandered historically.

Any fair-minded Texan who has given the topic more than a moment's consideration would agree that congressional districts OUGHT to be created in the most independent apolitical way possible with a goal of equitable distribution of voters into sensible geographic districts. But political extremists in our state government are currently doing everything in their power to subvert fairness and decency...to create districts for short-term purely political expediency...and to do so in a way that is an affront to our traditions and our nation's democratic principles. These short-sighted officials are fueling a race to the bottom in congressional district-making from which no one ultimately benefits.

So many men and women from Texas and elsewhere have died to protect US democratic ideals...yet so many Texas government officials today seem poised to disregard the efforts of these patriots and their memory.

Please work to stop this anti-democratic, self-serving re-districting madness.
